

SCAM ALERT: The Hacked Computer:

- An oldie but a goody...

Seeing new life for the benefit of those purveyors of ill-gotten gain:

You receive a call from someone claiming to be Microsoft or some other company you probably recognize, and they say something like...

- “We have discovered that your computer/phone has been “HACKED!” yada yada... we can fix it....

OMG! Now what are you going to do? You don't want someone stealing your identity!

- What YOU ARE GOING TO DO IS: HANG UP!

IT's a scam. Unless you call them, don't give them access to your computer. Don't buy and protection program.
